3 Hurt As Car Plunges From Road

Speeding Automobile Rolls Over Several Times in Smash-Up

Three city youths were injured when their car plunged off a curve in the Calgary highway early today.

William Finlayson, 16, 10230 89 street, Marshall DeMiller, 21, 8833 29 avenue and A. Melienchuk, 10188 87 street, were rushed to the University hospital about 2 a.m. today. According to police, the car was carrying the three youths over through a guard rail on a Calgary highway curve inside the city limits.

ENDS UP IN SLOUGH

Badly wrecked, the car had rolled over "several" times, police said. The speeding vehicle plunged over a ditch and ended up in a slough, according to police. Motorcyclist John Medwood and Edna Brown, witnesses to the accident, estimated that the car passed them at between 60 and 70 miles per hour.

The injured boys were taken to hospital in a Smith ambulance.

ONE IS RELEASED

Melienchuk was treated for head injuries and later released.

Condition of Finlayson for head injuries today.

Extent of injuries to DeMiller will not be announced until X-ray results are known, doctors said.

William Finlayson was the driver of the car. The vehicle belonged to Finlayson's father.

Freight Rate Probe Ignored

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—Deadline for the filing of initial submissions in the government's projected general freight rate inquiry arrived today with the province still ignoring the board of transport commissioners.

Seven of the provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec—had demanded a royal commission on railways and apparently what has been the most deal with the board until the cabinet had announced a decision.

Tills stand is being taken by Alberta. Premier Manning announced here yesterday, and he expressed belief the other six provinces felt the same way.

However, parliamentary sources said there was scant likelihood of any royal commission being appointed. They held the government intended to go no further in its reorganization of the board announced last week.

Arabs, Jews Will Talk With Mediator

CAIRO, June 19.—(AP)—Arab and Jewish delegations expected to reach Rhodes Monday to confer with Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator for Palestine.

Both sides agreed to send expert consultants, but the Swedish committee did not know yet whether these would get together in round-table conferences.

CP Fraser Valley Service Resumed

VANCOUVER, June 19.—(CP)—Canadian Pacific Railway double-track service throughout British Columbia's flood-swamped Fraser Valley now has been resumed, CPR vice-president G. H. Ballie said today.

Between Vancouver and Kamloops the CPR also is handling Canadian National traffic and will resume in so, until the CNR lines are fully restored.

Utilities Surplus

CALGARY, June 19.—(CP)—City utilities operated with a surplus of $245,918 from January to May, according to the monthly report issued yesterday by City Comptroller E. A. Hookway. In the corresponding period a year ago, the surplus was $205,892.

DRAFT BILL FILIBUSTER FAILS

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—The Senate today passed a compromise draft bill by voice vote after breaking an all-night filibuster.

As it now stands—subject to House of Representatives approval—the measure would start drafting money aid 19 through 25 for 21 months service, starting 30 days after final enactment.

Approval by voice vote came after the Senate first broke the filibuster of senators Glen Taylor (Dem.-Idaho) and William Langer (Rep.-N.D.) and then got into a heated squabble over whether or not the bill actually had been passed.

Taylor, who had been ruled out of order for breaking Senate rules, managed to regain the floor during the uproar.

Wary senators thought he was beginning another stretch of filibustering.

But Taylor talked only a few minutes and then gave up. Senators applauded and shouted approval of the compromise.

End of the filibuster and passage of the bill came after one of the stormiest sessions of the Senate floor in many years.

Libero Back-Benchers Protest

MP GOES TO SCHOOL BUT JUST RATES 'C'

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—Mrs. Gladys Strum (CCF-Quebec) is an exponent of social security measures in the House of Commons—but a thesis on the same subject earned her only "C" rating from Carleton College.

Mrs. Strum attended night classes during the winter and wrote the thesis this spring, contending in it that social security could only be obtained by putting a CCF government into power at Ottawa.

The professor who marked the thesis not only graded it "C"—he ringer that statement and wrote in the margin:

"What is the factual basis for this?"

CCL Unions Plan Political Drive

Canadian Congress of Labor union locals here plan the most intensive political campaign in the history of central and northern Alberta in coming weeks.

The Labor body has announced its plan to support the CCF party in a drive towards a labor government in Alberta.

At a meeting of the political action committee of the Edmonton Labor Council held Friday, outline of the campaign was mapped.

Action is in accordance with a resolution passed at a special Canadian Congress of Labor conference in Calgary last month.

This resolution stated the provincial government has disregarded the constructive proposals of organized labor through passage of labor Bill No. 91.

MASS MEETINGS

The campaign in central-north Alberta will be specifically directed at the industrial population. There will be mass meetings at factory gates and leaflets will be distributed in all large centres.

Jack Manning, secretary of the CCL and Jan Jakeman, provincial council chairman, will make a five-week speaking tour of the province.

An address list of 11,000 members of CCL unions in Alberta is being made out for distribution of literature.

A meeting of the CCL provincial committee will be held in Calgary on June 22 to direct and co-ordinate the campaign throughout the province.

United Packinghouse Workers union in Edmonton recently announced plans for political action in the next election campaign.

The CCL union leaders take the view that Alberta Labor Bill 91 is not only anti-labor but will result in the progressive lowering of the standards for all citizens of the province.

A feature of Bill 91 is heavy penalties for unauthorized strikes.

Pincher Creek Threat Subsides

CALGARY, June 19.—(CP)—Threats of continued serious flooding at Pincher Creek and Cardston subsided with high waters in the swollen creeks at the two southern Alberta communities today, bringing relief to hundreds of residents on farms and other small centres in the districts.

Pincher Creek was still hunting for the body of Cecil Holy Whitman, 26-year-old blood Indian who was drowned in the belly river Friday morning when he was swept from his horse as he attempted to ford the rampaging flood waters. Whitman, a father of two children, was the second flood victim in two days.

Between Vancouver and Kamloops the CPR also is handling Canadian National traffic and will resume in so, until the CNR lines are fully restored.

Truman Acts to Prevent Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(AP)—President Truman took a first step today toward heading off a possible soft-coal strike in the United States next month by naming a board of inquiry to look into the dispute between operators and miners.

John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers (Ind.), Truman acted under national emergency provisions of the federal Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

The president said the wage-hour pension dispute involving 400,000 of Lewis' United Mine Workers and the coal industry, including a strike of lock-out which would "imperil the national health and safety."

The Taylor-Langer filibuster began at 4:37 p.m., EDT, yesterday and ended at 9:39 a.m. today.

A stretch of 17 hours and two minutes, a number of senators took catnaps on the floor during the all-night vigil.

Taylor was tired and speaking very slowly when he lost the floor.

Immediate Action Demanded by MPs

By Dick Jackson
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, June 19.—The West today began climbing aboard the Ontario Liberal tax-protest bandwagon, kicking directly to Prime Minister King about Finance Minister Abbott's austerity program and budget, then—and this is regarded by official Ottawa as hereby—telling certain newspapermen about it.

Newest recruit to the "direct-approach" technique of by-passing the cabinet and Liberal party caucuses—where complaints are supposed to be voiced in private—was John S. Sinnott, Liberal MP for Springfield.

Today he came to this bureau with a file of letters and disclosed that in an exchange of correspondence with Mr. King and Mr. Abbott he had warned them that mounting living costs resulting from the four-pointers, austerity program and high tax budget would "lead to the annihilation of the Liberal party."

This is a post-mortem of the reasons why we have been so unsuccessful in retaining seats for the Liberal Party in the recent elections.

The Springfield MP from Manitoba produced his letter to Mr. King and Mr. Abbott which read:

"This is a post-mortem of the reasons why we have been so unsuccessful in retaining seats for the Liberal Party in the recent elections."

WHAT PUBLIC WANTS
"These are the public complaints. The public wants:

1. Immediate reduction of taxation rates in the lower income brackets for both salaried workers and wage-earners.

2. Repeal of the 25 per cent austerity program taxes.

3. Reduction in the cost of living.

4. Immediate reduction of taxation rates in the lower income brackets for both salaried workers and wage-earners.

"If some swift action is not taken, we can look forward to the annihilation of the Liberal Party. Trusting you will take immediate steps to restore the public prestige of the government."

Yours Faithfully
"John S. Sinnott, M.P."

Mr. King replied briefly:

"Thank you for your estimation of the reasons behind the results of the recent elections. I am bringing your letter to the attention of the government."

"With kind personal regards,
"W. W. Mackenzie King."

Mr. Abbott's reply was even more terse:

Royal Alex Hospital Chief Will Retire

Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent of the Royal Alexandra Hospital for 19 years, is to retire.

Dr. Anderson advised the Edmonton Hospital Board of his intention to retire September 1 at its meeting held Friday night in the city.

A special committee of the Board, headed by Dr. D. R. Easton to succeed Dr. Anderson as superintendent, is to be set up to arrange a fitting tribute for Dr. Anderson.

The Board also approved the setting up of a special committee to study the need for additional space in the Royal Alexandra Hospital and Nurses' Residence.

A special committee was appointed was made by Alderman Sidney Parsons.

It was suggested that an effort be made to take advantage of a Dominion Government proposal to contribute $1,000 per bed for the construction of new hospital accommodation, providing the provincial governments make a like contribution.

Provincial approval for such a proposal has not yet been given.

British Muster Armed Cars As Reds Ban Berlin Trains

BERLIN, June 19.—(CP)—British authorities in Berlin today started an air shuttle service between the city and the western zone following the Russian sealing of the zonal frontier after yesterday's announcement of currency reform in western Germany.

The emergency service went into operation from today, it was officially announced.

A regular schedule of passenger flights to and from Berlin will be instituted as soon as extra planes arrive from Britain, it was stated.

No British protest has yet been lodged with the Russians about their sealing of the zonal frontier which came into effect at midnight last night, a British spokesman said this afternoon.

The German Central Railway administration in the Russian zone following Russian securing of the zonal frontier prohibited importation of western currency, new and old, into Greater Berlin and the Russian zone.

Instructions. Motor traffic also was stopped.

The German postal administration, however, said that parcel and letter post between Berlin and the western zone and between the western zones and Berlin would "continue normally."

Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky allowed freight trains into Berlin under a "very careful" check. Air travel was unaffected.

British authorities moved 10 armored cars up to Helmsdorf, station bordering the Soviet zone, following unconfirmed reports that the Russians had sent tanks to their side of the frontier opposite the western zone had been cancelled today "according to Russian points."

"We are inclined to believe the new restrictions will be lifted in a few days. After all, we also have declared it illegal to bring trademarks into western Germany."

It Happened TODAY

World

Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, buried the kernal deep in the shell of a speech in Winnipeg, and it was nearly missed by some. The most of the speech, passed in cautiously, was that Canada should spread its risks by increasing sales to the market from which it gets most of its supplies. That market: the U.S.A. The loser in such an agreement: Britain.

In Philadelphia, supporters of Governor Thomas E. Dewey for the presidential nomination, stole a march on Senator Taft's followers when delegates voted 48-41 to seat a 16-vote Georgia delegation believed to be largely favorable to Dewey.

The U.N. Human Rights commission adopted a Declaration of Human Rights which is "only morally binding" on the participating countries. Russia and three of her satellites abstained from voting. Their comment: "Unsatisfactory."

Back in Philadelphia, Arthur Vandenberg began to blast Turkey with noises which sounded suspiciously like those usually emitted by a prospective candidate for the presidency.

Justice Minister Halsey backed down from a query in the House. When asked by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) if a loyalty test for civil servants in three government departments is being applied, Halsey said he was not in a position to answer. When pressed, he promised to "give consideration" to the answer.

Anthony Eden, wartime British foreign secretary, told a Tory party rally that the rebuilding of Germany must proceed along with the organization of a Western European Union, but he added a rider. There must be, he said, a safeguard against the revival of German military power.

and they will be given careful consideration."

GOT BRUSH-OFF

Mr. Abbott brushed off the roof fell on him when the Ontario Liberals went over his head to "The Boss."

"I'm only a back-bencher like Brethaupt, Gauthier and the others," said Mr. Sinnott, "but if it wasn't for my back-benchers there wouldn't be any Liberal front bench. It's about time the cabinet kicked out the finance department and Bank of Canada brain trust and let the Liberal members again have a say in the government's taxation policy."

The mutiny of the Liberal back-benchers against the "men around Abbott" has reached serious proportions. So far-reaching may be the consequences of the elected representatives of the people speaking out this way publicly, that a Toronto daily newspaper, always a devotee of the Liberal party line, has suggested Mr. Abbott may be forced to resign.

What the Liberal back-benchers were hoping was not for Abbott's resignation, but for the firing of the brain-trust and lifting of the tax burden—now not next year.

Problems of Vets Aired in Commons

MP Says Psychiatrists Used To Deprive Some of Benefits

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) said yesterday in the Commons he has "evidence" indicating veterans department psychiatrists "are employed occasionally to deprive a deserving veteran" of "financial benefits."

Pressing the cases of two individual veterans during committee study of veterans department estimates, he put on record 18 questions about psychiatrists. They referred to "truth serum tests" and "franchise-like" conditions and inquired as to doctors' power over patients in these circumstances.

Veterans Minister Gregg said the department will undertake to answer Mr. Blackmore personally. If that was not satisfactory, DVA then would "attempt to answer any questions appropriate to my department and submit them to the committee."

POINTS BROUGHT OUT

Questioning of the minister by opposition members brought out these points:

1—Veterans who have been denied a pension on the grounds that their disabilities were of pre-military origin now may apply for a review of their case.

2—The government will consider making Canadians who fought with Allied forces eligible for veterans' insurance.

3—The government is exploring the possibilities of having what was to have been an occupational centre in Winnipeg used by some federal department or public bodies.

4—The veterans' department is providing training for unemployed veterans of the First World War.

5—Of the 53,000 veterans who started university courses, 400 have discontinued but only 25 of these gave up for financial reasons.

SEES 'SENSATION'

"I am afraid that when these questions are all accurately answered, and members of this house are able to draw their own conclusions as to what sort of treatment our veterans have received at the hands of psychiatrists, there will be something like a sensation in the house and throughout the country."

"The evidence I have indicates too strongly that psychiatrists attached to the Canadian Veterans Affairs Department are employed occasionally to deprive a deserving chilistat — men who should be called rather pseudo-psychiatrists — are not to be named in the same breath with those noble psychiatric nurses who in Britain, the United States, Australia and other lands are, with Christlike devotion to spiritual values, salvaging wounded souls stricken by the desecrating hand of war. . . . "I know that the true psychiatrists will readily pardon me for any reflection upon them which here done by so-called psychiatrists may have been implied, because trials in this country have shown they will readily recognize that into disrepute the whole class of some of the things which have psychiatrists."

Junior Chorus Scores in Summer Concert

A musical evening of professional calibre was presented by the junior chorus of All Saints Cathedral Friday night.

The 26-member chorus sang its seventh annual summer concert with the same high standards it has maintained, under conductor Vernon Barford, for years.

The enthusiastic applause of the audience, which filled All Saints' Parish Hall, was testimony enough of the quality of performance which the chorists presented.

It was a program of light music and the junior chorus sang it as lightly as last night's summer air. The little Barcarole from Offenbach's Tales of Hoffman, the gay Estudiantina Valse, and Mr. Barford's delightfully humorous composition Advice to Bachelors were highlights of the evening's performance.

Topnotch solo rendition was given by Crystal MacDonald with Novello's The Little Damsel. She sang with the control, quality.

He was charged with a second offence of illegal possession of liquor.

She was arrested in a city department store Thursday, for shoplifting. Several articles of clothing were said to have been found in her possession.

London Docks Paralyzed; 17,000 Stay on Strike

LONDON, June 19.—(CP)—The vast port of London was practically at a standstill today, in the grip of a six-day dock workers' strike now involving 17,000 men.

With settlement deadlocked, the government was reported considering using the army to unload vital food cargoes.

Londoners read in their morning papers that their next week's meat ration may be threatened by the work stoppage, dock workers flouted a new call by transport and general workers union to go back to their jobs. Instead, strike-leading shop stewards sent wires to dock workers' committees in provincial ports asking support.

At Liverpool, an attempt to start a sympathy strike failed to gain support.

A total of 117 vessels, including a number of Canadian ships, were tied up by the strike which started from a grievance of 11 men over extra pay for unloading dirty cargo.

Forty-seven of the ships are loaded with food—including 30,000 tons of meat—and 70 are loaded with general cargo.

Government food officials are watching the strike closely as it also spread to another 1,000 men at City Gyros Give $500 to Flood Fund

The Edmonton Gyro Club has contributed $500 to a fund, being raised by Gyro International, for the assistance of flood victims in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, according to Stan Smith, publicity director for the Edmonton club.

Funds contributed by Canadian clubs will be used for flood relief in British Columbia, and by U.S. clubs for relief in that country.

In addition to the club's own fund, Mr. Smith said Gyros are making contributions through the fund being raised here by the city.

Social Credit Has Lost Its Chance

—Says Professor

VANCOUVER, June 19.—(CP)—A doctrinal schism in Alberta's Social Credit party will prevent the movement from attaining national status, Dr. J. A. Irving, University of Toronto, told Canadian Political Science Association delegates in annual meeting here.

Speaking on the evolution of Social Credit in Alberta, Dr. Irving showed how a rift had occurred between the extremist supporters who demanded immediate implementation of Major H. C. Douglas' "funny money" theories, and party followers who wanted only to effect a good administration when they came to power in 1935.

Departing from the Douglas doctrine, which advocated revolutionary changes in the monetary system, the Social Credit government at first confined itself to ordinary administrative legislation, he said.

STILL A FACTOR
The Aberhart-Manning leadership split, which advocated revolutionary changes in the monetary system, the Social Credit government at first confined itself to ordinary administrative legislation, he said.

In 1937 Aberhart yielded to the Douglas supporters and enacted the famous Alberta Regulation Act, which required all bankers operating within the province to be licensed and regulated by the province.

This was an infringement of the Dominion's powers under the British North America Act and was a challenge to parliament, whose power of ruling provinces was ultra vires had been long unused.

CHALLENGE TO DOMINION
Prof. J. R. Mallory, McGill University, said that this challenge led to the Dominion when its authority was at its lowest ebb.

Previous ruling of the Privy Council has appeared to grant provincial administrations a sovereignty which precluded disavowance.

The gauntlet was picked up by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the rest is history, said Prof. Mallory.

Day, said Nelson will be chairman for the day.

Three members of the Rotary Club, who joined during the past year, will be reintroduced to the meeting in the Macdonald Thursday noon, along with five new members.

Business affairs of the Lions Club will be discussed at the meeting following the luncheon Thursday afternoon. A number of the members are attending the district convention being held in Calgary.

Jaycees Endorse Free Enterprise

Individual Initiative Theme
Of Convention on Friday

By George Brinnell
WINNIPEG, June 19.—(CP)—Economic Justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise, the national convention of the junior chamber of commerce voted here.

Today, the final lap of the three-day meet, marks the election of officers and adoption of resolutions.

Yesterday the Jaycees placed on record their "firm conviction that freedom of opportunity and private initiative must continue if Canada is to remain strong, free and independent."

It made a further suggestion to its national executive that a committee be appointed to encourage in member units an awareness of the need to guard against influences which may undermine or destroy the freedom of opportunity of the individual.

Decision to pass the motion unanimously came after the meeting hit an hour-long procedural snarl over a constitutional 60-day notice requirement for motions.

J. S. Duncan, president of the Massey-Harris Company, Toronto, urged delegates to follow the principles of free or "private" enterprise. It was "a challenge for the youth of Canada... to become the ever-vigilant guardians of individual liberty and private rights, the guardians of a basic economic and political philosophy, which has proven itself."

Other features of today's sessions included organization clinics, finals in the national oratorical contest, general business sessions, reception, dinner and dance.

Oratory Award To Quebec Man

WINNIPEG, June 19.—(CP)—Claude Lapointe, French-speaking Jaycee from Theford Mines, Que., yesterday won the national public speaking contest and $300 cash award sponsored by the senior Chamber of Commerce, and open to junior chamber members. The French-speaking contestant was the unanimous choice of the three judges, who listened to addresses on the subject "It's Great To Be A Canadian" by finalists Lapointe, Ralph Hawthorne of St. Catharines, Ont., and Ed Emery of Winnipeg.

In announcing their decision they lauded the winner's "magnificent

BEETLE BATTLE IS SPRAY FRAY

WINKFIELD, Windsor Forest, England, June 19.—(AP)—The beetle battle is on today. The King's horses and the King's men sallied forth into a spray fray to protect potato plants in a part of the royal estates here after 61 Colorado potato bugs were discovered in a Winkfield garden.

Hoppers Still Doing Damage

REGINA, June 19.—(CP)—Slightly cooler weather, excepting for two days last week, has not appreciably influenced ravages of grasshopper millions in Saskatchewan. W. Horner, Saskatchewan crop commissioner said yesterday.

Late hatching continues and damage still is being inflicted on an area of roughly 230 miles stretching from Shaunavon in the province's southwest corner to Blaine Lake, 20 miles north of Prince Albert.

Mr. Horner said there has been no noticeable spread of the infestation.

Both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railway crop reports said rain is needed in nearly all sections of the prairies to prevent deterioration.

control of the French language, his splendid hearing, rich colorful voice, and fine emotional appeal to good Canadianism."

Further Development Of Alta. Coal Urged

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—John R. MacNicol (PC-Toronto Davenport) renewed in the commons last night suggestions that Alberta's coal fields be developed to meet Central Canada's shortages of hard coal and reduce the country's dependency on United States supplies.

Speaking during study of reconstruction department estimates, he said that all that was needed was to build a railway line into the Highwood area to bring out the fuel. The line would cost $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 and would be a "tremendous" investment.

HIGH-GRADE FUEL

The coal was a fine high-grade fuel that could be marketed in Ontario at $14 a ton, a $5 saving on the American product.

Use of domestic supplies also would help ease Canada's U.S. dollar shortage, Canada spent $225,000,000 in American funds each year for American anthracite coal.

NATIONAL PROBLEM

A. L. Smith (PC, Calgary West) said the western coal broke up into small pieces when mined while Ontario was used to burning the larger Pennsylvania coal. However, it had good heating qualities.

Canada has never tackled the coal problem as a national problem. The difficulty was geographic. It was looked on as something which could not be beaten.

With government assistance and direction the problem could be beaten.

Trade Minister Howe said if the mines contained the only coal in Alberta the government might have some reason to get excited about it.

However, coal production in Alberta was not limited by the number of mines, but by the number of miners.

During the war Mr. Howe said he tried everything to move Alberta coal to Ontario. It was not possible to move more than 500,000 tons a year and never would unless transportation facilities are increased.

At present, because of the shortage of miners, Alberta could not even fill the needs of the prairies.

Thieves Take Parts From Airplane

CALGARY, June 19.—(CP)—Thieves stole $500 worth of airplane parts from a aircraft being trucked to Lethbridge Thursday. The truck, owned by William Rothe, Lethbridge, was parked overnight in an auto service yard on the Macleod trail and the landing lights and dashboard equipment were found missing.

Credit Unions May Meet in Calgary

CALGARY, June 19.—(CP)—Credit Union organizations representing 4,000,000 members, will be asked to hold their next quarterly meetings in Calgary. The Calgary chapter of Alberta Credit Unions voted last night to invite the Credit National Association and the Credit Union Mutual Supply to Calgary for the meetings.

Bormann Given Absentia Sentence

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, June 19.—(AP)—Martin Bormann, missing deputy of Adolf Hitler, was sentenced yesterday in absentia to 10 years in jail. Bormann generally is believed to have been killed in the fall of Berlin. The International Military Tribunal in Nuremberg sentenced him in absentia to be hanged.

THESE GOATS ARE BIT FUSSY

NORFOLK, Va., June 19.—(AP)—When they put a herd of goats on Craney Island, fuel annex here to the naval supply centre, the navy believed it had found a labor-saving method of keeping down excess grass. Cmdr. J. F. Gresne, officer in charge of the GULF ground on the island, soon found, however, that none of the 14 goats would nibble clover. He requested permission to submit a requisition for clover cutters. Craney Island's grass-cutting problems now are settled, the navy believes. Four clover-eating sheep have been purchased from a local farmer and moved to the island.

Celebrity Concerts To Cover Province

Meeting in Red Deer Is First Organized Move

By Dick Sherbanuk

Central Alberta residents may have the opportunity to hear some of the continent's musical artists next winter, if present plans are successful.

Action is now underway to organize a Central Alberta celebrity concert association in conjunction with Celebrity Concerts (Canada) Ltd.

Base of the proposed association would be the hustling little city of Red Deer.

The concert association would be district-wide with an open membership to nearby residents.

NO RISK
A. K. Gro, president of Celebrity Concerts (Canada) Ltd., which brings topnotch artists to Edmonton, Calgary and points east, is assisting Red Deer citizens in organizing the Central Alberta association on a non-risk and non-profit basis.

Public meeting will be held at Red Deer city hall on Wednesday, June 23, at 8:30 p.m. to get the ball rolling towards the formation of the association.

Anyone interested in bringing musical celebrities to Red Deer is invited to attend.

The plan to form the association includes, firstly, the election of officers. Then, from June 28 to July 2, a membership drive will be held in the district.

450 MEMBERS
A minimum of 450 members must be obtained if the project is to succeed. Mr. Gro told this column yesterday. Tickets to the concert series will be sold in advance, and there will be no danger of anyone going into the red for any particular concert.

No single admissions will be sold for individual concerts, but memberships will be transferable.

Mr. Gro states that this system is working successfully in about 950 towns and cities in the west.

Medicine Hat is holding its Celebrity Concert Association membership campaign this week.

HADDAD HERE
George Haddad, one of Canada's foremost pianists, will be appearing in concert in Edmonton next winter.

During the past 12 months, Haddad has completed a 20,000-mile concert tour which has taken him through Mexico, Central America, the West Indies, United States and Canada.

Critics have called him the "future Rubinstein" and "one of the brightest concert artists in the United States."

KINSMEN SPONSOR
Dr. G. E. Decker, president of the city Kinmen, states that the local organization will be sponsoring the pianist's appearance here soon after the New Year.

In addition, Haddad may give a city concert in the fall, but that won't be definite until his tour is completely arranged.

In the meantime, he is giving master classes at Wayne University's summer school at Bay View, Mich., and preparing for next season's tour.

CITY RELATIVES
All of this makes his relatives in Edmonton feel mighty proud. His aunt, his cousin, his sister, his mother, his father, including Terry Haddad of Heintzman's record department.

SCOTCH FESTIVAL
The international festival of music and drama held annually in Edinburgh, Scotland, will run from August 22 to September 12.

And while the following paragraphs will be sheer torture to all those (including the writer) who would like nothing better than to attend, here's some information on the mammoth two weeks of art.

King George and Queen Elizabeth are patrons of the festival, which was inaugurated in 1946 as the Edinburgh Festival Society.

Artists from all over the world perform at and attend performances of the festival.

Program includes the world-famous Sadler's Wells Ballet, Orson Welles (in Orpheus, presented by the American National Theatre and Academy), La Compagnie Madeleine Renaud at Jean-Louis Barrault from Paris.

MOZART SEASON
Glyndebourne Opera presents a three-weeks Mozart season (in Italian) of Don Giovanni and Così Fan Tutti, with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and Ann Ayars, Christina Carroll, Vittoria Taranto, Kuzma Zarska, Erich Kunz.

The Auguste Orchestra of Homebait, BBC Symphony Orchestra, Alfred Corti.

Yehudi Menuhin, Gregor Piatigorsky, Artur Schnabel, Louis Kentner, Segovia, Michelangelo, and on and on.

PIRANI ATTENDS
Max Pirani, who adjudicated at last year's festival, has recently told this column that the Edinburgh festival was on his English holiday.

Arrangements have been made to have special air service (including special rates) from London to Edinburgh for the international festival.

Special planes will leave Montreal one week before the festival and return one week after.

As the hands move back and forth, up and down, the thermometer, that hand humming, that at ways seems to be coming from somewhere in the darkness is obtained.

Cover of this album is interesting. Erna Sack collectors may be in the market for this album. The recordings will have English labels—no more tongue-twisting German titles.

Incidentally, have you heard one of her latest releases, St. Mary's, Lullaby (reverse: Beloved Mary). The German soprano sings the Lullaby with a quiet majesty and purity you'll want to hear.

Hazel Sacks first Columbia album (four records) is quite good. The girl who got her first job with Mutual Broadcasting Company while still in high school, in 1936, vocalizes with her piano-planning. The album is all with rhythmic accompaniment.

This column liked best her hope-ful, up and down, the thermometer, that hand humming, that at ways seems to be coming from somewhere in the darkness is obtained.

Heintzman's tell us there'll be a new shipment of Nipper records in sometime next week.

FOR THE KIDDIES
May we remind parents that all the local music stores have loads of albums especially for the children. They are just as enjoyable to adult ears as to the kids.

Ever since Spike Jones has entered this field, with his highly original version of the Nutcracker Suite, RCA Victor.

It's a subdued Jones and orchestra in this album, but nevertheless it's probably the first and only time Tachikowsky has ever been played with such rattling and breaking strings.

Speaking of Spike Jones, have you heard his latest, Uggie Uggie Boogie Woogie? On the other side is Down in Jungle Town, with vocal refrain by Paul Judson, Freddy Morgan, assisted by The Heintzman.

Capitol Records has an album of that same type of music. They call it "Music out of the Moon."

It's great mood music, with a throbbing vibrant beauty that is just becoming popular.

The eerie sound (heard in the above-mentioned movies) in the sounds like a woman's voice humming is made with that little-known instrument the Theremin.

The theremin is played by motions of the hands over an electronic field, without the hands actually touching the instrument.

Crosby Scores In Jasper Movie Hit

By HARLO JONES

Hall "Der Bingle," he's done it again! He hasn't yet earned any such name as "The Grand Old Man of Song," but he seems to be outlasting them all.

He can even be excused for using an old Sinatra trick in "The Emperor Waltz," now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

By that I mean the power of song when applied to luring a female, even when she's as hard-hearted as Countess Stolberg-Stolberg, as portrayed by Joan Fontaine.

But we're getting ahead of the story.

VIENNA SETTING
Picture the Vienna of 1905, still trading on the glories of the Hapsburg Emperors, in this case, one Francis Joseph, a rather benevolent old monarch with side-whiskers and a liking for dogs.

That's the setting for the story.

Then picture Bing as a telephone salesman with a working model of the one which the Viennese adds look like an FM set.

Mix in a couple of dogs (one pedigreed French poodle and one just plain American dog) and you've got all the ingredients of the plot.

Naturally, from the Edmonton standpoint, the background scenery of the Canadian Rockies at Jasper is a note of interest. I can even remember seeing it, when for some quick of the plot, Miss Fontaine removed herself from the front of it for a moment or two.

The competition in that respect was pretty stiff. (My fault, not the producer's. I see Jasper often.)

Music there was plenty, from Viennese waltzes, complete with uniformed orchestra and beautiful women, to the theme tune of the show: "In Dreams I'll Kiss Your Hair."

Incidentally, the latter is the one which Crosby uses to pull the Sinatra-sung from the "hard-headed" crooner.

COMEDY
In short, although comic in large proportion, the picture is an attractive, modern, fast-moving, and as a highly improbable American photograph salesman (alias Prince Charming), and Joan Fontaine as a highly desirable Countess (alias the Princess).

And a parting word of advice. Don't forget to watch the dogs. You'll follow the plot better than from the poor humans who play it.

Or as Crosby said himself in his exclusive letter to The Bulletin, some day they are going to let him make a picture in which people play the leading roles.

P. S. This is one Crosby picture in which Bob Hope doesn't get the girl or even show his ski-sliding nose into one frame of celluloid.

POWELL RETURNS
Tonight is your best chance to see "The Senator Was Indecent," at the Rialto, and although the indiscretion is not of the type which one usually associates with Senators and scandals, the comedy is still good.

Actually, the picture is a Made-in-USA slap at all politicians in general, and those seeking presidential nominations in particular. It's timely, anyway.

Some of the gags seemed to have a tendency to pass over the heads of Canadians, but that's not to make the picture well worth seeing.

The yarn takes William Powell, as a negative-I.Q'd senator, along his trail to the White House. The picture is a comedy, and it's a comedy that all politicians are honest and sincere—at least until they get a better offer.

Also, there's a surprise ending from which devotees of the old "This Man" series may get a kick. Sorry we gave you the short end of the week to think this one over, but it's now or never. As far as this column is concerned, quoting the editor: Saturday night is the only night of the week.

DISNEY TOO
Fans who find the Disney-and-music combination good will probably welcome the opportunity to pick up one of the many new records when it is released before the "It's Make Mine Music," and is playing at the Avenue, opening tonight. And it is a good picture, from the whale who wanted to sing grand opera (and whose voice was provided by Nipper) to the musical sequences with backgrounds by Benny Goodman's band, Dinah Shore, and the Andrews Sisters.

Carry-me-Back-to-Old-Virginia, Colombia, Andrus, the King's Tea and the Pied Piper. It's good entertainment, T.F.N.

PROSE FROM BROOKLYN Author Durocher Is The Same Old 'Lip'

THE DODGERS AND ME. By Leo Durocher. New York: Ziff-Davis. 285 pages.

An exception in some ways, to the common run of sports autobiographies is "The Dodgers and Me," which is neither sweet nor innocuous.

If the book were written with the aid of a spook, then it was one who took dictation, because it sounds just like the man who is the origin of the legend of the "Lip."

Like the living Durocher, the literary Durocher speaks kindly of almost no one.

He is frank, one of the biggest drawbacks, he has his own lights, about most of the people who could be out of him, crossed him, and with him—and that takes in a large part of the world's population.

The prose of "The Dodgers and Me" is a stream of emotional violence. Example: "You! I roared, 'You stole pigeon! You got the crust to come in here!'"

And "I started pitcher Bobo Newson, one of the biggest windbags the game has ever known."

Since Mr. Durocher is a figure of considerable consequence to hundreds of thousands of people, his unabashed tale should have a wide appeal.

This book tells one side of the story only, but any book signed by Mr. Durocher, which provided anyone with a real-life character, and therefore, a piece of junk.

BRIGHT FEATHER. By Robert Wilder. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. 408 pages.

"Bright Feather" is the lusty, gaily romantic story of Florida in the 1830's.

Pictured is the bloody battle of the Seminole vs. the White Man, in its climax and first days, just before and just after the Dade massacre, on through the signing of the treaty marked with the X's five Indian chiefs.

Clay Hammond, the romantic young hero of "Bright Feather," is a character of the great deal of authentic history and social background material, made palatable with a lot of highly-flavored synthetic romance.

Good entertainment—if you still have your fill of historical novels.

SOLITARY WITNESS. By Richard Collier. New York: Pellegrini and Cudahy. 208 pages.

"Two shots rang out in the misty Calday to take an active part in the life of the young blade in St. Augustine."

An army deserter, a British hearse, and a crack playing Moslem are the puppets in this contrived suspense story, which ultimately leads to the triumph of British acumen over the dark forces of Asia.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Central Dairy Pool Reports Big Year

Manager Warns of Possible Substitute If Production Lags

ALIN, June 19. — A turnover of over $5,000,000 was reported during 1947 at the annual meeting of delegates of the Central Alberta Dairy Pool held at the United Church here Tuesday. Although the pool showed a paper loss of $1,140 on the year's business, this deficit was shown only after $114,281.55 had been paid for series "B" 1947 certificates.

Thirty-six out of the 50 delegates eligible to attend were present at the annual meeting to hear a report on the future of the pool. J. A. Wood, of Edmonton, president of the board, outlined the tremendous growth of the pool since its inception 25 years ago. The dairy pool now operates creameries at Alton, Red Deer, Ponoka, Bentley, Delburne, Innisville, Hinton, Rocky Mountain House, Stettler, Okla, Camrose and Hobbie, as well as the large milk condensery plant at Red Deer.

SALES OVER 100,000

Manager Bill A. Johnston, to emphasize the large increase in sales during the past year, quoted comparative figures for preceding years.

In 1945, he stated, gross sales were $3,272,000. In 1946, this figure increased slightly to $3,325,734. And in 1947, this figure jumped to $5,164,012. He stated, however, that this big increase in gross sales was largely attributed to the increased selling prices of the products sold by the pool.

In a word of warning to the delegates, Mr. Johnston pointed out that dairymen must keep up better production. If better production cannot be kept up to meet demand requirements, a substitute will be found," he warned.

FOUR SHOW SURPLUS

Pool plants showing surplus on the year's operations were those at Stettler, Red Deer and Alton.

Small deficits were chalked up against the creameries at the other points. The condenser at Red Deer also showed a paper loss of $4,811.69, although sales from this plant alone were well over the $1,000,000 mark.

Election of directors in districts 2, 4, 6 and 8 took place during the afternoon. Re-elected to the directorate were J. A. Wood, Delburne; A. W. Green, Bismarck; and Adam Robertson, Hobbie.

Re-elected to the board was Fred Donnelly of Red Deer.

TWO IN HOSPITAL FOLLOWING FIRE

FAIRVIEW, June 19. — Severe burns about the hands, feet and face were sustained by Mr. and Mrs. Moore Lee Vost when their home at Gage was destroyed with all contents here Tuesday. Both are in Fairview hospital.

Mr. De Vost is agent for Alberta Pool elevator and the home was connected with the office building. It is understood the fire followed an explosion which occurred while the engine was being refilled.

In election results in district 4, other directors whose terms did not expire this year are J. Stume, Alton; J. B. Bradley, Lacanville; J. A. Wood, Hinton; and J. Hutchins, Consort.

Among those who spoke briefly during the business sessions were G. Lundberg, mayor of Alton; E. J. Fitzpatrick, supervisor of co-operatives for the provincial government; Norman Kirkham, field supervisor for the dairy pool; and Norman Priestley, general manager of the CFA Co-op, Calgary.

Mr. David Lee, newly-appointed minister of agriculture, was the chief speaker at a banquet held in the Legion hall following the business sessions. Other officials and leaders of camp movements in the province spoke briefly.

New Lighting System On Vegreville Streets

VEGREVILLE, June 19. — Up-to-the-minute street lighting has been brought to Vegreville with installation of 24 new all-steel light standards on the main streets by Canadian Utilities Ltd. The new lighting completely eliminates glare and black spots, with even distribution of the light from higher standards and scientifically designed reflectors of 300 and 500 watt intensity.

The 24-foot, all-steel light standards were constructed by local workmen and welders at Vegreville, under supervision of company engineers. Each is mounted on a concrete base and carries a single mottled street lamp of the latest design, similar to the most recent installations in Calgary and Edmonton. All-black lights are 500 watt strength, those at intersections 500 watts.

Each standard is bolted to a concrete base 42" deep and 24" square. Vegreville brings to six the Alberta towns and cities where modern street lighting installations have been completed or are under way by Canadian Utilities. Others are Grande Prairie, Lloydminster, Stettler, Vermilion and Drumheller.

Engineers of the company designed the all-steel standards in use, and the company has found it more economical to have the standards fabricated by local

Twenty Bridges Is Flood Toll At Kneehill

TROCHU, June 19. — The larger unit of the Municipal District of Kneehill held a meeting on Monday, June 14 in the municipal office in Three Hills. In the discussion of road repairs, C. C. Campbell of Trochu said that this season's difficulties were the worst he had seen in his 20 years as councillor.

Twenty big bridges were washed out last season, numerous culverts and small bridges, and it is expected it will take the whole season to make the repairs. Scarcely of material is showing up the work somewhat. Graveling will be kept up and the aim will be to maintain the present roads before starting to make new ones.

The committee urged removal of the time limit.

British cars invade Canada and are here to stay. That's the wise word of men of the automotive industry.

Call them over-sized baby buggies or mechanized bathtubs, these small cars have an appeal of their own and are making a big hit on the Canadian automobile market.

Despite their vest-pocket-size appearance these Austins are just as roomy and comfortable as their larger opponents of the car market.

Proof of this is in evidence in the accompanying pictures.

Two new Austin purchasers, Freeman G. Bell, left, who is six feet four inches in height and weighs 245 pounds, and William Perotti, centre, who is five feet 11 inches in height and weighs 328 pounds, are shown with R. P. Malone, manager of English Cars Limited, 10131 121 Street, who sold them each a new car when he proved the Austins had sufficient room to accommodate them in driving comfort, and at the same time won himself a new hat.

ON THE FARM

With Ted Horton

Wheat seeding in Alberta is down 12 per cent from a year ago, but coarse grain seedings have increased. Oats are up seven per cent, barley 10 per cent, rye 12 per cent and flax three per cent.

These figures and some of the other statistics which follow, were hastily culled from grain company and wheat pool reports and may indicate trends and possibilities for future guidance.

For instance one set of statistics shows 22.3 per cent of Alberta's wheat crop this year was Marquis wheat, but last year topped that with 22.3 per cent.

There's considerable discussion in grain circles this year and for some time about degrading feed foods wheat and its cousin, the 22.3.

Reason for the degrading is said to be that the wheat has a low protein content, but Dr. David Ure, minister of agriculture says in some cases this wheat shows as high a protein content as any other wheat.

If it is decided to degrade the variety, it will fall into the same category as Garnet wheat—though not necessarily the same classification.

Of course it won't happen this fall or next year.

IN FIVE YEARS
Alberta department of agriculture officials say the board of grain commissioners will announce the new grading to take place five years or so later, to enable growers to get out of the variety without loss.

Saunders wheat is being recommended as a substitute, but little seed is available.

NEED RAIN
Unless there's rain pretty soon farmers predict there won't be much of anything to harvest any more.

Southern Alberta has been getting plenty of rain at Plummer, but they are now complaining about it. But northern Alberta has had nothing which even approaches a flood.

To add to the gloomy general farm picture, grasshoppers are decimating southern Saskatchewan crops over wide areas.

Farmer's holiday time rolls around again.

Full-Fledged Skipper At 27, Is Doug Adlem

Reg Hammond, The Bulletin's managing editor, and Staff Photographer Eric Blund, have flown hundreds of miles to the Northwest Territories to bring Edmonton readers tales and pictures of that fantastic north country which means so much to the future of this city. Here is the fourth of a series of articles by Mr. Hammond.

By Reg Hammond
FORT SMITH, N.W.T.—When Doug Adlem shipped aboard a tramp steamer in Vancouver as a galley boy at the age of 11, like all boys who go to sea, he dreamed of one day becoming master of a vessel.

Today at 27, Adlem, who was born in the coast city, has had his dream realized, after 16 years in the merchant navy, during which time he visited almost all corners of the globe.

Ironically enough, he's not the skipper of a modern ocean-going freighter, but of the diesel tug Dense Lake, plying the chain of rivers and lakes of Canada's northland waterways.

The Dense Lake, a veteran campaigner in the north, was purchased recently from the Hudson's Bay Company by McInnes Products Corporation Limited, and Adlem is her first master under the new owner.

AWAITS CARGO
Adlem was sitting in the wheelhouse anxiously awaiting arrival of cargo to fill the two barges he was to take to Yellowknife when the writer and Eric Blund, The Bulletin's staff photographer, hailed him from the wharf.

He invited us aboard for a look around. It was quite evident from the welcome we received that he was mighty proud of his first command.

We were introduced to the chief engineer, Henry Van Kervel, an older Vancouver lad, who had spent many years in the merchant navy before joining the Royal Canadian Navy at the outbreak of the Second World War.

Like the captain, he had only recently joined the Dense Lake and it was his first taste of fresh water sailing.

CORVETTE DUTY
Van Kervel served in the entire room of corvettes on convoy duty during the battle of the Atlantic, but according to his own story, "he was lucky." Except for his daily shower he never took a ducking.

Adlem has a crew of nine, including the chief engineer, to man the 84-ton vessel. And every member of the crew has his own private quarters.

This is the first time in my experience that I ever saw a ship where each member of the crew had a room all to himself, he said. He explained how this came about.

Until recently all northern vessels provided accommodation for a limited number of passengers. With the advent of regular air-line service into the north, water passenger traffic has been almost entirely eliminated. So members of the ships' crew naturally just took over the empty staterooms.

"We made a trial run down the river to Bell Rock yesterday," the skipper said. "It's a six-hour run and everything went off without a hitch. We're anxious to take on cargo and get going for Yellowknife."

He estimated that the run from Fort Smith down the Slave River and across Great Slave Lake would take the Dense Lake with its two barges approximately 30 hours to complete.

He seemed to be rather disappointed when we told him that Northern Transportation's tug Itanium King had docked at Yellowknife the day before, making the first cargo crossing of the 1944 navigation season.

Adlem had hoped to have had the honor of taking the first load into Yellowknife in his first season as skipper of the Dense Lake.

Packing Workers Pledge CCF Support

Govt. Labor Bill Listed as Reason

Union packinghouse workers in Alberta will actively participate in the next provincial election campaign.

Support of workers in United Packinghouse of America unions was pledged to the CCF party at a political action meeting held Thursday night in the city's new building.

Packinghouse workers here are affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor (CCL) national organization.

JAMBA CHAIRMAN
Roy Jamia was elected chairman of a political action committee for CCLPA locals in Edmonton.

This committee will work in co-ordination with the Canadian Congress of Labor political action committee. It was announced.

The action is in accord with a resolution passed by delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor special conference of unions, held recently in Calgary.

Passage of Alberta Labor Bill No. 91, at the last session of the legislature, led directly to the decision to take political action, it was stated. Delegates pointed out that Bill 91 contains no recognition of amendments to the Alberta Labor Act proposed by spokesmen for both the Canadian Congress of Labor and the Trades and Labor Council of Canada.

ROPER SPEAKS
Elmer E. Roper, M.A., provincial leader of the CCF, addressed Thursday's meeting of packinghouse workers.

Mr. Roper expressed satisfaction that the unions support the CCF as the political party to support in the next provincial election.

A second address was delivered by Mrs. Edith Rogers, Edmonton president of the CCF.

Mrs. Rogers said fair labor legislation, social security, hospitalization and a high standard of living can only be attained through political action. It is a better weapon than the strike, she declared.

SHOPPING GUIDE

You Remember Celery?

Huzzah! It's here!
Not so crisp—not so crunchy—but CELERY just the same.

It's from Ontario and not the beautiful, flavorful stuff we remember from way before Christmas—but it certainly is a step in the right direction.

Of course, the question of prices is another matter. You could buy it late Friday for 48¢ a pound in one store and 58¢ a pound in another. Yet another store sells it at 35¢ a pound today.

Which all adds up to this: Do your shopping wisely, Madam!

Then there is the fluctuating price of fresh strawberries. Mind you, the elasticity depends a lot on the condition of the berries. Prices vary from 25¢ a pint to 52¢.

These won't be much different around on a lot of customers eating strawberries and cream at this time.

But things are getting better all the time in the lettuce patch. Quantities are increasing and the city from B.C. and according to the law of supply and demand.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Erratic Eating Habits
Worries Anxious Parents

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It would seem that when the pattern of a child's eating is consistently one way, in this case, a vigorous appetite then no appetite, that eventually the parents would cease to worry about it. But they do.

Mrs. M. H. writes: "I have a baby of six months who is the best baby possible, except at meals. Ever since he first tasted solids, at six weeks of age, he has been extremely erratic about his eating habits. We never know when he will take food or milk. More often than not I throw away a full bottle of milk at the end of a meal.

"The strange thing is that he is extremely energetic, sits alone well, does not whine, seldom cries, he sleeps well from 6:30 to 9:30 and seems to be a healthy baby. We have taken him to some very good doctors and they tell us not to force food. He'll be hungry at the end of a meal. Nothing is physically wrong.

"So often he eats only one meal a day, I have tried making the meals attractive, have given him vegetables and made custard, but to no avail. He has been on three meals a day, but he still won't eat. At first, reducing the number of meals worked beautifully, now he is back to his old habit of spitting out the first mouthful, squirming in his chair, fussing until he is taken out. For a week he goes on a strike.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Girl Should Discover
Fiance's Infidelity

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a very dear friend who expects to be married soon to a man whom she considers morally perfect, but I happen to know positively that he is having an unsavory affair that he has not even broken off in view of his marriage.

Sooner or later she is bound to find out the truth and I am afraid her life will be ruined. Do you think I should tell her?

WOULD FRIEND: ANSWER—I would never tell a wife that her husband was unfaithful to her, because her knowledge of it would only make her unhappy. The longer she can live in her fool's paradise, the better for her.

Also take this ache at the back of your neck as a warning that you are doing too much and simplify your life. I am speaking today of the chronic condition which many people have, not which many people have, not which many people have, not which many people have.

But before marriage the case is entirely different. It seems to me that if any friend knows any just cause why these two should not be united in the holy bonds of matrimony, as the marriage service says, then the only honorable and decent thing to do is to go to the innocent and ignorant party and tell him or her the truth.

Very likely it may cost you a friendship, for the hearer of the welcome news over bath a lasting office, but at any rate you will have done your duty and your skirts will be clear.

ANALOGIES CITED: If your friend was about to be married, every cent she had in a bank, near you knew to be bankrupt, you

Correct Sore Necks

Many folks feel the impact of modern, rushed living at the back of their necks. This may actually act as a barometer in some persons as to whether they are doing too much.

If you have a tired, tense, aching sensation at the back of your neck after a hard day, this is probably the cause. Exercise and massage and heat, plus lying down rest periods (without a pillow) will bring you relief unless there is something else wrong.

Just 15 minutes or a half hour spent in a corrective routine will make you much happier, and also a better dinner companion. When you first come in, take off your outer clothing, loosen tight clothing and lie down without a pillow for about ten minutes. Place hot water bottle under your neck and leave it there while you rest.

Get up and sit on a stool or chair. Dig into your back neck and shoulder muscles with your fingers. This only takes a few minutes. Afterwards, do a few neck exercises.

This is a good one: Stand erect with your feet separated. Raise your arms to a position halfway between the shoulder height position and an overhead position.

Arms relaxed. Lower your head backward. Drop your arms and trunk forward, bending at your waist. Let your head hang down in a limp manner.

Raise your trunk upward and your arms to the position already described and lower your head backward again. Continue.

Another exercise: Make large circles with your head, pulling as far in each direction as you can. Do this in a relaxed way. After circling a few times one way circle in the opposite direction.

Also take this ache at the back of your neck as a warning that you are doing too much and simplify your life. I am speaking today of the chronic condition which many people have, not which many people have, not which many people have, not which many people have.

But before marriage the case is entirely different. It seems to me that if any friend knows any just cause why these two should not be united in the holy bonds of matrimony, as the marriage service says, then the only honorable and decent thing to do is to go to the innocent and ignorant party and tell him or her the truth.

Very likely it may cost you a friendship, for the hearer of the welcome news over bath a lasting office, but at any rate you will have done your duty and your skirts will be clear.

ANALOGIES CITED: If your friend was about to be married, every cent she had in a bank, near you knew to be bankrupt, you

HE FINDS THAT KEEPING FAWN IS EXPENSIVE

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—Anytime you look at it, it's expensive to keep a fawn in your yard.

Thirty-one-year-old Donald Langford of Ottawa found that out Thursday after some weeks of feeding a fawn deer offspring on "two quarts of milk and large quantities of baby food." He said his wife and kids loved the fawn, and it made a nice household pet. He hadn't known about a law that prohibits keeping animals in a place other than their natural habitat.

Magistrate Glen Strike sympathized, but observed that the $25 fine he was levying would perhaps acquaint others with the law.

Police said the fawn must have been taken from its mother "just after birth." It will be cared for by the Ottawa Humane Society until it is old enough to be turned loose.

... INTRICATE DETAIL PLUS PERFECTION IN COLOR ...
BEAUTY CAPTURED on canvas is one of varied products of Mrs. A. Harnhouse's hobby-work. Besides her beautiful flower pictures, and landscapes she makes interesting, intricate rugs, professionally fine woodwork (she laid her own hardwood floors and constructed an expertly finished coffee-table); dabbles in the art of puppetry—and last, but far from least, writes. Her one and only play was produced by BBC.

Artistic Beauty Appreciated By Too Few People

Importance of handicrafts in development of artistic appreciation has too long been underestimated.

Too long has this endeavor been considered a step-child of so-called "fine art."

The pastry cook decorating a cake—the woman hooking a rug or planting a colorful flower border—is an artist in her own right—just as much as she who wields a paint brush.

These are the phrases of Mrs. A. Harnhouse as she spoke of the need for art in everyday life in a recent interview.

She continued to say that it costs no more to build a beautiful home than an ugly one. If people would acknowledge their innate feeling for beauty—and develop a "taste" for the beauty of line and color, they would appreciate the wonders of their surroundings to a greater extent.

The artist is needed now as never before. Too long has he been regarded a "precious commodity" living in an ivory tower—detached from the world of reality.

He is needed in industry—housing—town-planning and a host of other endeavors.

All Edmonton artists sing the praises of Mrs. P. B. Mortimer who has spent much of her time in the past 25 years fostering an appreciation for beauty in Edmonton's young artists.

Schooled in the best English traditions, Mrs. Mortimer has worked untiringly in transferring her knowledge and feeling for art to local art enthusiasts.

Most Edmonton painters studied with Mrs. Mortimer at one time or other in their careers.

... DOWN THE ROAD APIECE ...
FRAMED SKETCHING in the gracefully arched doorway of her home is Mrs. A. Bradshaw, well-known for her excellent landscapes done in powerful oils. Her work shows depth and feeling, with emphasis on strong, expressive coloring.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER SHARE WEALTH OF TALENT

ARTISTIC FEELING comes to the fore in both Mrs. V. Stanley Kauffman and her daughter Mrs. M. Kay Cardiff. Mrs. Kauffman excels in landscape work in both oils and water-colors. Her daughter does fabulous things with oils or pastels in the field of portraiture. Both have an ease of expression and Mrs. Cardiff's portrait work shows a great deal more than mere promise.

MAGIC FINGERS OF ARTISTRY REGISTER SCENIC BEAUTY

LANDSCAPE WONDERS of our own Saskatchewan river valley are being transferred to paper by Mrs. P. J. Fleming as she does her careful sketching for one of her beautiful pictures. Although at home in any medium, Mrs. Fleming does amazing work with water colors. Her flower paintings, with their delicate color shadings, their painstakingly fine detail and artistic balance are particularly appealing.

HONEYMOONING IN BANFF are Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Bell who were married in Highlands United Church. The bride is the former Florence Eunice Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Burns, of Kelowna, formerly of Edmonton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. L. H. Bell and the late Mr. Bell.

Summer Hunting Best For Milady's Furs

'New Look' in Fur Coats Defeats

Any Hope of Bargains This Year

OTTAWA, June 19.—(CP)—This is the time of year when the woman with a fur coat puts it in storage—and the woman who wants one, goes hunting.

An Ottawa furrier, who has been in the business for nearly 40 years, says that summer is the best season to look for furs. And August is the best month to buy.

But this year milady need not expect much in the way of bargains. A fur coat, he says, is a long-term investment.

A coat of mink or fox, he says, is a long-term investment. It is not a fashion accessory.
